Desert Spring Products is on the Move
Company responds to evolving market conditions

MISSISSAUGA, ON – In an effort to address the dual impact of rising transportation costs and a strong Canadian dollar, Desert Spring Products Limited (“DSP”) announced it has reached agreement in principle with its long-term, Denver-based primary component supplier for complete manufacturing services of its patented Rotary Disc humidifier.

According to DSP CEO Peter VanderPlaat, outsourcing production activities to the US brings DSP closer to its largest market and reduces costs while maintaining its high quality standards. This will ultimately make the product more affordable, allowing more people to enjoy the unique benefits of the Rotary Disc humidifier.

As a result of these changes, DSP will also relocate its offices including customer service, new product development and administration. In 2008, Canadian customers will have their orders shipped from the new Mississauga location, while US customers will start receiving shipments from Denver as early as July. Specific logistics information will be communicated directly to our customers at a later date. The telephone and fax numbers will remain the same. Effective Monday, March 31, 2008, the company’s new address will be as follows:

7490 Pacific Circle, Unit 1
Mississauga, ON L5T 2A3
